

Mary Roth, Pharm.D., BCCP, BCPS

Cardiovascular Clinical Pharmacist
University of Virginia Medical Center
Charlottesville, VA

Mary Roth completed her undergraduate Biology and Pharmacy education at the University of Wisconsin - Madison. She then moved to Chapel Hill, NC to complete her PGY1 Pharmacy Practice and PGY2 Cardiology Residency programs at the University of North Carolina Hospital. After residency, Mary moved to Charlottesville to begin her clinical practice as a Cardiovascular Clinical Pharmacist at the University of Virginia Medical Center. She works on the Heart Failure service, Coronary Care Unit, and Acute Cardiology Service, and serves as a preceptor first the Cardiology PGY2 resident, as well as Solid Organ Transplant PGY2, Critical Care PGY2, and PGY-1 residents.